IMPORTANT: Net rental income is gross rental income less expenses. Depreciation is not deductible; payments on principal of mortgage are not deductible. If rental property is partially occupied by owner, report gross income received and the proportionate part of the expenses. For example: On a two-family house occupied by the claimant and another family, report gross income received from the other family and one-half of the expenses.

Net receipts from business are gross income less expenses incident to operation of the business. Depreciation is not a deductible item and neither are withdrawals of cash or merchandise, or salaries paid you or your partners. Deductible operating expenses include cost of goods sold, rent, normal repairs, taxes (other than Federal income tax), salary or wages of employees, insurance, interest on business debts, and similar expenses.
